Commercial Vessel activity

Commercial Fish

Increasing requests for Exams are due to increased catches of salmon (big ones and many of them) and other species. Apparently there is an abundance of feed from the upswelling currents. Many sport boat operators who are not commercially licensed are requesting VSC's as it helps them with insurance costs and random boardings.

Uninspected Passenger Vessels

Michael Mitchell, ADSO for UPV's reports 7 vessel Exams done in July. Most in Wil Sumner's" back yard," Bodega Harbor. Sue Fry also assisted with these exams.

Tom Stead and Ray David in Morro Bay are ready and able to assist with exams in the Monterey area when requested as they both have qualified as Commercial Fish and UPV examiners. BZ to them.

IMD Support & Prevention Training

Support continues with Wil Sumner as ADSO to that shop. There is a State database that is being used at this time to identify newly found boats as well as continuing to monitor the ones already on the lists.
