OMG- Our fellow Auxiliarists are some brave folks!! Check out this photo and description sent to me [Fl 1-2 FSO-CS] by Fl 1-4 Steven Bustin, who was the coxswain of this vessel [in the photo on page one] this past weekend. Servant served during 4 days of Fleet Week as a TARP boat. That means it had a yellow tarp atop and was one of two TARP boats in The Box. The TARP boats must stay within 25' of their assigned GPS coordinates and it is very important they do that.

The purpose of the two TARP boats is to act as reference points (like the ends of a runway) for the aircraft performing. We unofficially and with humor, refer to the boats as TARGET boats since in reality, the aircraft use them as targets for maneuvers and thus, come very, very close. Aboard Servant were Fl 1-4 re the following people: Coxswain Steven Bustin, Crew and Owner, Fl 1-7 Jim Losi, Fl 1-7 Crew Greg Olsen and Fl 1-4 Michael Mitchell.

USS AMERICA (LHA-6) Returns to San Francisco for Fleet Week 2018 By Roger Bazeley

The amphibious assault ship USS America (LHA 6) conducts flight operations while underway to Rim of the Pacific (RIMPAC) 2016. U.S. Navy Photo Archives

San Francisco, Calif.— USS America (LHA-6), the fourth U.S. warship to be named for the colloquial moniker of the United States of America, is the first of the America-class amphibious assault ships for the U.S. Navy. She was delivered in spring of 2014, replacing Peleliu of the Tarawa class. The design is based on that of USS Makin Island (LHD-8), itself an improved version of the Wasp-class amphibious assault ship.

Approximately 45% of the Flight 0 design is based on Makin Island, with the well deck removed to allow more room for aircraft and aviation fuel. The removal of the well deck for landing craft allows for an extended hangar deck with two significantly wider high bay areas, each fitted with an overhead crane for aircraft maintenance.

USS AMERICA (LHA-6) Returns to San Francisco for Fleet Week

Based on the hull design of USS Makin Island (LHD-8), USS America (LHA-6) is equipped with a gas turbine propulsion system. The design incorporates several modifications to complement aviation operations and support activities. The well deck has been converted into an extended hangar deck and includes two wide and high bay areas. An overhead crane is installed in each bay area for aircraft maintenance

“The America Class ships are built by Northrop Grumman Shipbuilding.”

The design also includes a reconfigurable command and control centre, a hospital, additional aviation fuel storage facilities and aviation support areas. These changes enable the ship to serve joint, inter-agency and transnational maritime forces. The America Class ship has an overall length of 257.2m and a beam of 32.3m. The displacement of the vessel is 44,971t. The hybrid propulsion system provides a maximum speed of more than 20k. The ship can accommodate 1,204 crew and 1,871 troops

Re: Division 4 November SO-PA Activity Report to District 11NR

SAN FRANCISCO – Fleet Week for the San Francisco Bay area was held on the first weekend of October. Practice air show was conducted on Thursday 4 October 2018, and full air show program was run on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 5 Oct to 7 Oct. Parade of ships was held on Friday before the air show. Division 4 vessel facilities assisted in the security zone support for the air show and/or parade of ships included Search Engine (coxswain Paul Verveniotis of Flotilla 46), Cheers (coxswain Robert Brown of Flotilla 49), and Willy-Willy (coxswain Jimmin Chang of Flotilla 48). Shown below is auxiliary facility Search Engine preparing to launch from Oyster Point marina.

Shown below, crew member David Cohen of Flotilla 19 (left) and trainee Jill Weeks of Flotilla 41 (right) were preparing to retrieve auxiliary facility Willy-Willy back onto its trailer after coming back from Fleet Week mission.

Auxiliary members also assisted with shore-side Fleet Week events, such as providing information to the public who were interested in the navy vessel tours. Shown below, Derek Chan of Flotilla 43 (center) was interacting with air show visitors at Pier 30-32 on the San Francisco city waterfront. (Coast Guard Auxiliary photo William Tsai.)

PALO ALTO, Calif. – Arthur Hardee of Flotilla 43 (left below) set up Public Affairs / Academy recruitment booth at Henry M. Gunn High School in Palo Alto, CA on 8 October 2018, in their college fair evening event. Thousands of students and their parents from the Palo Alto area attended. Over 140 colleges and universities, from across the nation together with universities from Canada, Japan, Israel, United Kingdom, Switzerland, and Hong Kong participated.

SAN JOSE, Calif. – Flotilla 48 and 41 held a joint monthly meeting on 10 October, 2018, at St Frances Cabrini Church in San Jose, Calif.

Shown below, Flotilla 48 Commander, Christopher Johnson, (standing in the center), presented Jill Weeks of Flotilla 41 (standing on left) the 2014 U.S. Coast Guard Unit Commendation award, which she never received. Assisted in the presentation also was Michael Brown, Flotilla 41 Commander (standing on the right.)

SAN JOSE, Calif. – Flotilla 48's About Boating Safely class was held on 20 and 27 October 2018. Three participants successfully passed the class. Shown below, Christopher Johnson, Flotilla 48 Commander, began with the course introduction.

Bodega Bay OPTREX 2018

Flotilla 55 decided around 2008 to offer an OPTREX for those Blue Water Sailors within the Auxiliary that wanted to qualify in water and boats that they were accustomed. Late September was originally chosen because this is typically the calmest weather with offshore breeze in our local oceans. Its normal for the winds to pick up in the afternoon, so shore side activities are always included in the schedule. The local camp ground (Doran Beach County Park) surrounding the Coast Guard Station also provides reasonable housing alternatives for those with RV's.

The Friday before the OPTREX, pre crew training is offered for the candidates to acquaint them with their assigned facilities as well as the water conditions. We rarely get a waiver for the wearing of mustangs so this can add a challenge to the event. When we do get a waiver, the mustangs must be on board in case we receive a call out for a SAR case.

Friday evening, we typically arrange to run a Night Operations on one of the Stations 47 foot Motor Life Boats. Each Auxiliary crew must attend the pre brief, covering our normal GAR (Green, Amber Red) or risk management process. In addition there is a brief session covering the ATONS, with light characteristics, and local landmarks that the candidates will be expected to point out while underway. A CG mentor will be assigned to each Aux Crew candidate, and this person will demonstrate the CG line handling skills needed to operate the 47 MLB. The AUX personnel rotate from their look out positions giving relative bearing, characteristics, and names of the ATONS encountered on the AOR mission.

Seaman Rodrigues is coaching Auxiliarist John Teague on proper line handling skills prior to getting underway on Night OPS.

Night OPS Crew: Aux David Stapp, Kevin Berger, Becky Vermeer, and Mark Lewis. CG BM1 Esser, BM2 Richard Smith, BM3 Newhall, Kneeling, Seaman Rodrigues and Seaman Tyler.

Saturday morning, we assemble at 0830 for coffee, doughnuts fruits and juices. Then go through our safety briefing that includes our GAR Score or Risk Management process. Those candidates needing an oral exam are asked to join their (QE) Qualifying Examiner, while the rest of the candidates, crew and QE's go to their boats to start the Qualifying Events.

QE Angelo Perata getting the paperwork ready for the QE Sessions on MargaRita. Crew, Thomas Herbst, Ray Van Cleave, and Wil Sumner.

SS Minnow with QE Wayne Farnholtz, and crew Jeff Tuttle, Steve Jette, and Frank Capuro at the helm.

During the underway events, its not uncommon at Bodega Bay for one of the Stations 47 MLB to also get underway and conduct joint training with a CG Auxiliary boat that is a dedicated distress boat. The Coast Guard Crew need to qualify on the skiff hook, so our boats offer a great opportunity for this training. (seas cooperating).

Lewis Derfuss and Gerry Gilgren on SAR DOG training with CG Bodega Bay 47305 Motor life Boat

After the underway sessions are completed, all hands report to the Station Mess Deck where flotilla 55 serves Capuro Restaurant Clam Chowder (Frank Capuro is one of our Coxswains) with all of the fixins.

Preparing the Chowder, Steve Jette (AUX FS) Frank Capuro, Shirl Maxson, BM1 Martinez, and Jimmy Matthies

After lunch is served, (and if all candidates are tested), shoreside training starts. The events include, fire suppression, P6 Pump Operations, and a Flare Shoot Demonstration.

Flare Shoot training, John Teague, Becky Vermeer and Wil Sumner

The rest of the afternoon, your time is free until the Evening BBQ.

Curtis Han and Gerry Gilgren checking out the 47305 MLB.

The dinner celebration begins at 0600 with a social hour that includes both CG and CG AUX personnel. This followed with a Steak and Chicken BBQ. We were treated to a special guest this year, the stations resident Bobcat , Bobby, was attracted to the smell of our roasting meats, Alas he wanted a raw entry and we could not oblige due food safety reasons.

Each year this organization gives back to Capitola by donating for the improvements for this town. They ask for our help each year, to keep boats away from the Capitola Wharf fireworks. Two boats helped with this event this year with Coxswain Chuck Cobery's boat 522 and Crew, Don Morrison, Onn Hommes, Andriea Cuppoletti Coxswain and Wally Smith's boat 219 with Crew Karen Yoder, Jerry Edelen, Dave Frisbey and Jane Smith. Harbor Event

The newly elected Deputy National CalmOtter and his friend Oscar recruit a new disciple of Boating Safely, while the Flotilla 67 Vice Commander (Glen Marshall) distributes safe boating literature to Santa Cruz Haunted Harbor event participants.

Commander (Glen Marshall) communes with a very silent ghost while two other silent characters (AUXTTER and Oscar) wait for trick-or-treaters at the Santa Cruz Haunted Harbor event. Oscar never said a word, but Deputy National Commodore Wally Smith as AUXTTER (wearing the fuzzy lifejacket) charmed the kids and sprung into action with his dual message of boating safety and marine safety.

Commander (Sean Sheehan) and Vice Commander (Glen Marshall) model the "Aloha Spirit" and inflatable life jackets at Santa Cruz Haunted harbor event. The dead guy (Oscar) in the foreground apparently wasn't wearing a life jacket.

At times, the Santa Cruz Haunted Harbor event was a mob scene with over 400 children and their parents visiting Flotilla 67's boating safety booth in a three hour period. Meanwhile Flotilla 6-10 members and members of other D11NR divisions (including Auxiliary members who are medical professionals) volunteered to serve on shore patrol duty in order to insure public safety during the event while maintaining an official demeanor.

The forces of darkness confront the Deputy National CalmOtter and his friend Oscar at the Santa Cruz Haunted Harbor event. Sean Sheehan, Flotilla 67 Commander (in Hawaiian shirt and lifejacket) was offering candy, boating safety coloring books, boating safety information for adults, schedules for upcoming PE courses, and American Waterway Watch brochures, so naturally the forces of good prevailed, but you can tell from the look in Deputy National CalmOtter's eyes that it was a close call. Meanwhile, Oscar was oblivious but cool in his ever-present life jacket and stylish shades. But that certainly is one frightened otter!

Team Coast Guard Change of Watch, on Saturday, November 10th at the Bayonet and Blackhorse Golf Club House.

Division 6 Team Coast Guard Change of Watch!

Schultz, Ralph Neal (now 97) & Sonia Foster

The Cake

The meal was absolutely outstanding!! All you could eat barbecue including barbecue ribs, brisket, baked beans, mixed salad, fresh fruit, corn on the cob, potato salad, barbecue chicken, and apple cobbler. Our division had a cake made in honor of our COW, Veteran's Day, and Ralph Neal's birthday...all occurring on almost the same day.

Fifty personnel attended, including members of our District Color Guard (founding Color Guard Captain Tracy Schultz), original team members Georgie Scheuermann, Rick Scheuermann, as well as Karen Yoder and Division 4 Commander Michael Brown. Michael's participation truly made our Change of Watch, a District Team event (See below).

Immediate Past Division Commander and Division Commander elect for 2019, Jane Smith, served as our Master of Ceremonies.

We had some very special guests attend: the Honorable Clyde Roberson, the Mayor of the City of Monterey; CAPT Anthony Ceraolo, Commander of Coast Guard Sector San Francisco; LT John Gatti, Commander, Coast Guard Station Monterey and Leader of Team Coast Guard Monterey; Chief Doug Leavell, Operations Training Officer from the Director of the Auxiliary Office; and Ensign Sarah Davis, Auxiliary Liaison Officer, Sector San Francisco.

From the Auxiliary, we were fortunate to have our senior leadership in attendance. District Commodore and Deputy National Commodore for the Pacific Region and Operations, Wally Smith; District Chief of Staff and District Commodore elect Mary Kirkwood; and District Captain Wil Sumner. We are also honored to have with us this afternoon Mr. Ralph Neal, a 50-year Auxiliarist, and recipient of the Marine Corps Silver Star for gallantry for his actions in the South Pacific during World War II. Ralph is like the Ever-Ready Bunny, he is 98 years old and he keeps going and going and going....

October 13th The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 88 of Lake County participated in the Health & Heroes Fair by providing Boating Safety information to the fair goers including Water Safety Activity books to the children.

The Flotilla booth was next to the Northshore Fire Protection District Firefighters & Dive Team from Lucerne, CA who were giving away free life jackets to children. Two flotilla members assisted the Dive Team in fitting the youngsters with the proper size life jackets.

The spirit of the Fair was reflected in the joint efforts of the Northshore Dive Team and Flotilla 88 to work together in helping keep children safe when out on the water.

October 25th 10-5 Fresno On October 25th 6:00-9:00pm, Clovis Memorial Building, Clovis, California we participated with the Clovis Veterans Roundtable event for the community of Clovis & Fresno, California. This event was sponsored by 40 VFW/American Legions groups celebrating Halloween Spooktacular for the children of Clovis and Fresno, California cities. Flotilla 10-5 Fresno, Douglas Lazo, Flotilla Commander, and Steven Pitts participated at this event. At this occasion we manned "Coastie" which received a fantastic response from the 1200+ children and adults attending this Halloween spectacular. Besides talking to the children and adults about Recreational Boating Safety topics we gave out 1200 coloring books, and 800 California Boating Course/Test books to the adults. The response from the participants was great with "Coastie" taking a lot of photographs with the children from toddlers to teenagers. The adults were updated as to the new California Boating Laws - Boating Card, etc.

Flotilla 10-5 Fresno, has been requested by the Director of Clovis Memorial District, Lorenzo Rios, to participate in 2019 event and anticipate twice the amount of children and adults coming.
